“ To the Ellis Family: We take this time to express our personal condolences to the family of Anna Ellis. Our thoughts and prayers go out to the entire family during this hour of great sadness. May all grieving hearts continue to draw tender mercy and comfort from God who truly loves us. (2 Corinthians 1:3-4) Yes, as the friends will be there for us, God will also. God does not want us to be overwhelmed by death, so He takes the time to provide this wonderful promise that will provide true comfort to all grieving hearts. This comforting promise is recorded at John 5:28-29. As the verse states, that God would cause a calling to go forth to those in the grave, and that our departed loved ones would respond by standing up in life again. All today can take comfort in this promise, because God is giving us His personal guarantee that the restoring of life for persons like Anna, and a great host of others will surely take place. All today can continue to draw further comfort from God by reading the nine preserved accounts that speak about the resurrection blessing that is near at hand. Here is just one such example that is recorded at Acts 9:36-42. I truly hope that all will get a chance to see how these verses apply to Anna, and a great host of others who await their personal resurrection from God. In closing we encourage all to please keep this promise of God near your hearts at all times. Remember that when God makes a promise, it becomes reality. For it is impossible for God to lie. (Titus 1:2)
