“Sending condolences to the family. Death is an enemy we all have in common. We look forward to the time when death is swallowed up. (Isaiah 25:8) and our loved ones asleep in death are restored back to life. (Acts 24:15) A promise soon to be fulfilled. “Do not be amazed at this, for the hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out, those who did good things to a resurrection of life, and those who practiced vile things to a resurrection of judgment.” - John 5:28,29

“ To the Myers Family I would like to take this time to express my personal condolences to the entire Myers Family. We are truly sorry to hear about the recent passing of Arrie L Myers. Our thoughts and prayers are with the family and friends during this time of great sadness. For a moment we ask the family and friends to think back on all the fine memories that you shared with Arrie. How these memories actually put a broad smile on your face. Yes we will greatly treasure these fine thoughts and moments that we had together. In all honesty, the memories are good, but we rather have the real Arrie back among the living. During times like this, we often find ourselves asking many questions regarding our love ones. Question like, what really happens to a person when He die? Or if a person dies, can He live again? Did you know that the Bible answers both questions. As regards to a person when He dies, the Bible states at Ecclesiastes 9:5 that the living are conscience that they will die, but the dead are not conscience of anything. Also Psalm 146:4 states that the spirit goes out, he returns to the ground. So as the scriptures states, the person dies, He returns back to the dust of the ground. He no longer exist. But the scriptures also tells us that God has the powers to reverse the conditions that our love ones find themselves in. Yes they can stand up in life again. What do we base this promise on? From the following text that God provide as comfort for all grieving hearts. At John 5:28-29 God says that He would call to those in the grave, and that our love ones would hear His voice and stand up in life again. God wants all to have a clear understanding of this promise. The promise serves as a personal guarantee that Arrie, and billions of others will have their lives restored back to them. That she and others who have fallen asleep in death would be reunited back with her many family members and friends. Oh what comforting words these are to hear. So after reading these verses, do we see ourselves being reunited back with all of our family members and friends who have died? Do we have faith that such an arrangement could take place? If we are not sure, or our faith is lacking in this arrangement, then we can take steps to build it up. There are nine accounts in the Bible that speaks about the future resurrection blessing. Here is just one such example that all can gain comfort from. It is recorded at Acts 9:36-42. I truly hope that all may get a chance to see how the verses apply to Arrie, and to billions of others who will benefit from this loving arrangement from God. The resurrection to life is a sure thing. May all remember that God has given us His personal promise that life will indeed be restore. As we have come to know, that it is impossible for God to lie. ( Titus 1:2)
