“ To the Wade Family: In behalf of my family, I would like to take this time to express my personal condolences to the family of Fannie Wade. Our thoughts and prayers go out to the family during this hour of great sadness. As difficult as this time may be, you will be on the receiving end of getting much love and support from the family and friends. However, we must also remember that God will also be there for us. As the scriptures reveal, God is a God of tender mercy and comfort. (2 Corinthians 1:3-4). Really there is no better source of comfort and support, than what God will provide. So to the Wade family, this is the comforting words that God is sharing with you. He knows your pain. He know what you are dealing with. He has taken note of every tear that has fallen from your eyes. So being a God of love, He reveals these comforting words to all grieving hearts. Please note how this promise apply to you, and by way of extension, to all our love ones who have fallen asleep in death. Here is this touching promise, God states that He would call to those in the grave, and that our love ones would hear His voice and stand up in life again. (John 5:28-29) Yes what a wonderful promise this truly is. In fact this promise serves as a guarantee that Fannie, and billions of others will soon be reunited back with their many family members and friends. Only God who is the source of life can make such a promise, and then to carry such a promise out. Yes God has the power, and the desire to do this for His earthly family. (Job 14:13-15) Then to enable all to draw true comfort from this promise, He has preserved nine account in the Bible that speaks about the resurrection blessings soon to take place earth wide. Here is just one such example recorded for our benefit at Acts 9:36-42. I hope that all will get a chance to see how the verses apply to Fannie, and a great host of others who await their awakening from God. So may all please keep this promise near your hears at all times. Remember that we have God's personal promise. Yes it is impossible for God to lie. (Titus 1:2)
