“ I am heartbroken to hear of the passing of my mom. She adopted, listened, and loved a little troubled girl. Interesting that you had been on my mind around the time of your passing; my search was unsuccessful. I wish you'd have learned what became of your surrogate daughter. I pray you stayed faithful till the end. We will definitely catch up in heaven. Your daughter, Lisa Kemp.

“ My deepest sympathy to the family. LaFern was a neighbor and classmate. Truly a Lady of Southeast High School that was missed by so many of us this past week as we gathered to celebrate being together. God is receiving one of his finest.

“ To the Washington Family On behalf of. My family, I would like to take this time to express my condolences to the Washington Family. We are truly sorry to hear about the recent passing of LaFern L Washington. Our thoughts and prayers are with the entire family. From the remarks that was made in the obituary, LaFern was a very industrious person. Despite her busy routine, she was also concerned about her spirituality. In modern times, people often find themselves so busy, that they just don't have time to read the sacred writings. It is the sacred writings of God that provides comfort for all grieving hearts when we lose someone in death. To the Washington family we encourage all to draw comfort from the comforting words of God. (2 Corinthians 1:3-4) God's words to you comes in the form of a promise. It is a promise that is directed to all who are dealing with the lost of a love one. Here is the promise that God wants you to know about. God states that He would soon call to those in the grave to stand up in life again. (John 5:28-29). From this one promise, God is giving the Washington family, and other families of the earth His personal guarantee that our love ones would have their lives restored back to them. That they would be reunited back with their family members and friends. Yes only God can make such a promise, and then to carry such a promise out to completion. I know that LaFern must have read this text many times over. Now she will find herself on the receiving end of this promise from God. Until this arrangement takes place, we can learn all that we can about the resurrection blessing from God. There are nine accounts in the Bible that speaks about this wonderful blessing. Here is just one such example that is recorded at Acts 9:36-42. Please allow the text to provide all with true comfort from God. So please remember this promise from God. Remember that when God makes a promise, it becomes a reality. For God does not lie. (Titus 1:2)

“ I was extremely saddened to learn of LaFern's passing. We worked together at St. James United Methodist Church and she was a joy and a delight to me. I only learned of her passing too late to attend the service. I pray her family will see this message and know my prayers are with them.
