“ Im really sad about this. Rosaland was my god mother. My dad Curtis was her best friend and I just googled her name in an attempt to find her and stumbled upon he obituary. Me and my sisters absolutely loved her. Unfortunately once my dad passed i hadnt been able to get an info on her. Growing up it was so exciting to see her. She was so fun and outgoing and beautiful. She always had on all her rings and talked non stop about her daughter and she loved to scream!!! Lol!! She was life and the party didnt start until she walked in the door. Imma miss her. God bless your family she was an amazing woman and someone that helped shape my life.

“ To the Davis Family: On behalf of my family, we take this time to express my personal condolences to the family of Rosalind Davis. Our deepest thoughts and prayers go out to the family and friends during this hour of great sadness. Death gives us much to think about. How often we find ourselves pondering many questions such why do we grow old and die? If a person dies, can He live again. Yes these and many other questions the Bible provides an answer to. I personally like the answer that the Bible gives for the future hope for our love ones. Lets see how this text applies to Rosalind Davis. To the Davis family God is telling you that soon He would a calling to go out to those who have died. Those in the grave would respond to that prayer by standing up in life again. (John 5:28-29 and Acts 24:15) From these scriptural accounts, God is giving us His personal guarantee that Rosalind Davis, and a great host of others will indeed have their lives restored back to them. Again some may ask, how is this possible? It is possible because God is the source of all creative life. (Psalms 36:9) So even if someone dies, God has the power and the desire to restore life back to that person. So in the near future, the age old question will finally be answer. That question, if a able bodied man dies can He live again will finally be answered yes. (Job 14:13-15. So for now we know that many will shed tears of sadness when dealing with the lost of a love one or friend, that is understandable. But in the days to come, those tears will turn into tears of joy and laughter due to the resurrection of life taking place. So may all please continue to treasure this wonderful promise from God. Remember that when God makes a promise, it becomes reality. For it is impossible for God to lie. (Titus 1:2)
