Vernice was all about family. She would do any and everything if she could for them from; feeding and giving them a place to stay. She was truly the backbone of the family. She was like no other, to love her you had to know her because her love was different and pure. If you needed her she was there. Her smile was affectionate, her beauty was immaculate. The glue to our family, the last sister. Vernice was very nurturing, lived her life to the fullest, till the very end. She was still feisty! She loved to have fun with family and watch everyone socialize.
